Clue 4 REVEAL

I have to say this is gorgeous. So beautiful I decided to keep going and make it larger, bed size perhaps. Here is the layout for the size given. This has such a story to tell. You can shift those two sets of stars as you wish, this is just the way that I like. Play with layout before you stitch.

Remember this is set on point so we will use those triangles we cut in Clue 1 in the corners and at the each end of the “row”. This is on my design wall, waiting for me to decide how I can make it larger than it’s current 54” (approximately). Maybe use this as the centre medallion and add some amazing borders.....
