

Tea Party
© Debi Montgomery
Clue 4 REVEAL

AND HERE IS OUR BEAUTY!! This gorgeous tea party is so fun! I just love it. It was simple to put together and so much fun to sew with you. We need to have tea parties WAY MORE OFTEN! You have created and cut everything we need for your Tea Party. Turned out much better than I expected, I love this versatile design!

So no more babbling from me....

This is assembled on point. We will stitch in rows, they are just diagonal rows rather than vertical/horizontal. Each row will have a triangle on each end to “square” it off. I usually lay a ruler or piece of paper on the “map” for each diagonal row. For this design, starting at the top left and bottom right, they are exactly alike so I will make two of each row and be complete twice as fast!

Your beauties should measure very close to:
71" square for the 10" block units
85" square for the 12" block units
106" square for the 15" block units

I cut my binding at 2-1/2". Regardless of your chosen binding width, here are the number of WOF strips you will need to bind each size.

Binding	10" blocks	12" blocks	15" blocks
2-1/2" WOF strips	8	9	11

I swapped the layout around after I had it out on the floor... it's amazing what rotating four blocks will do. This is with the four centre blocks rotated 90°. I also tried to swap the centre of the flower (or tea cup) 9-patch units to make the inside of the cup dark, which looks amazing as well! So many options!

